Problem Statement

To write a C++ program to generate the mirror image of a binary tree by interchanging the left and right children of every node. The program demonstrates the use of binary tree data structures and recursive traversal to produce the mirrored tree.